

Media Release

Contact:

Kandy Cayce, DHS Division of Services for the Blind
(501) 682-0332

For Immediate Release

June 30, 2015

Pulaski County teens with vision impairments complete unique program

Eight teenagers from Pulaski County were among the 20 teens who completed Jump Start, a career development program for high school students who are blind or severely visually impaired. The program ran from June 7 – June 26.

The unique program, sponsored by the Department of Human Services Division of Services for the Blind (DSB) and the Arkansas School for the Blind and Visually Impaired (ASBVI), was attended by students from across the state.

DSB placed students in part-time jobs in the mornings and offered educational and recreational activities in the afternoons and evenings. This is the only program of its kind in Arkansas and is designed to assist students in transitioning from high school to employment or post-secondary education and increase their confidence in social situations. Applications for the Jump Start program are taken in the early spring of each year.

To the degree possible, students are placed in jobs in their fields of interest so they can gain insight into their chosen professions. Students who don't have specific career goals at this point in their lives are given other employment according to their experience, skills and abilities.

Pulaski County students and their employers included: Xavier Davis and Brianna Gentry, both at Children First Pre-school; Dominique Harris and Javon Cooper, at DSB Vending Facility sites at the Arkansas State Capitol and the Capitol Mall Building; Sedrick Wilkerson, Arkansas Lighthouse for the Blind; Antonio Ayers, the ASBVI Instructional Resource Center; Markisha Tenner, Power 92 radio station; and Courtland Dukes, Arkansas Library for the Blind. All of the students are from Little Rock except Gentry and Wilkerson, who are from North Little Rock.

In addition to job skills, Jump Start students learned independent living skills that many people without visual impairments take for granted, such as banking and money management. Students were taught meal planning and participated in a cooking lesson with Chef Brian Kelly of Little Rock.

Learning how to live independently also means learning how to get around. Students received orientation and mobility training on how to travel using a white cane and learned how to use city buses.

Students volunteered on a gardening project at Our House, an organization that provides shelter, training, and child care for people who are homeless or near homeless.

Working part-time and interacting with other students who are blind or visually impaired increased the students' confidence, social skills and self-esteem. Some students who came from small communities had never met other teenagers who are blind or visually impaired. Social skills and interactions with others are a crucial part of life, so recreational activities were built into the program. Students went bowling, attended an Arkansas Travelers baseball game, saw a movie, went skating, toured a submarine, and painted their own works of art.

Students practiced skills learned in a class on business and dining etiquette when they experienced fine dining at Savoy 1620 restaurant, enjoyed a meal at Benihana Hibachi Grill, and saw a play at Murry's Dinner Playhouse. At the end of the three-week program, there was a graduation event on the Mark Twain Riverboat.

Jump Start participants stayed on the ASBVI campus during the week and returned home on the weekends.

DSB provides vocational rehabilitation services to adults who are blind or severely visually impaired and whose goal is successful employment. The division also serves youth and older blind individuals. For information about DSB's programs and services, visit the DSB website at <http://humanservices.arkansas.gov/dsb/Pages/default.aspx> or call 1-800-960-9270, 501-682-5463, or TDD 501-682-0093.

Caption for group photo:

Pulaski County students who completed Jump Start are, on the front row from the left, Dominique Harris, Brianna Gentry, Markissha Tenner, and Courtland Dukes. On the back row from the left are Javon Cooper, Sedrick Wilkerson, Antonio Ayers and Xaivier Davis.

Caption for other photo:

Department Head and Production Director Houston Stackhouse, aka Stack III, of Power 92, shares banter with Jump Start student Markissha Tenner of Little Rock. Tenner worked at the radio station during the Jump Start career development program.