

Division of Youth Services

Transformation Plan

ARKANSAS
DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES

Arkansas Division of Youth Services Core Beliefs

1. Youth are best served in least-restrictive settings located close to home, when appropriate; evidence-based rehabilitative services are available; and removing youth from the home should be the option of last resort.
2. Families, schools, law enforcement, and courts need a wide array of service options, including graduated sanctions outside the courtroom.
3. Decision-making should be data-driven, and programs and services should be supported by data demonstrating their effectiveness in improving outcomes for youth and families.
4. Effective community-based services can reduce the use of confinement and commitment to the Division of Youth Services (DYS) and result in significant savings in state revenue.
5. Treatment and placement decisions should be individualized, based on comprehensive, standardized assessments, and actively involve youth and families in the planning process.
6. All youth in DYS custody should be provided effective education and vocational training opportunities.
7. Limiting length-of-stay recommendations in order to recognize that the effectiveness of treatment provided in institutional settings is diminished after six months, notwithstanding correctional and public safety goals.
8. Collaboration with local school districts is critical to a youth's successfully returning home to his or her community, along with effective aftercare and prevention programs.
9. Funding allocation across residential and community-based services must be rebalanced.
10. All children and youth in the state should have equal opportunities for services and success, without regard to gender, race or ethnicity, disability, geographic location, or income level.

Moving the Juvenile Justice System Forward

DHS contracted with the Center for Child Law and Policy (CCLP) in March 2018 to complete a review of the DYS residential treatment system for youth adjudicated delinquent and committed to the custody of DYS.

As a result of this study, and previous studies that looked at the Arkansas Juvenile Justice System, we have developed a set of initial action steps designed to begin moving the system forward in cooperation with the Judiciary, Community-Based Providers, and other Stakeholders in the Juvenile Justice System.

It should be noted that these changes are occurring at the same time that the Governor-appointed Youth Justice Reform Board is working to develop legislative proposals designed to reduce the use of secure out-of-home placements and expand the use of community-based options such as diversion and family support services.

Juvenile Justice Transformation: Phase 1 Goals

November 2018 through June 2020

- Ensure all youth are quickly placed in the least restrictive, most effective, quality treatment setting
- Ensure treatment progresses timely and youth transition to a home setting as quickly as possible
- Ensure the appropriate supports are in place for the youth to successfully return to home and community
- Ensure all parties involved in the youth's treatment and return to a home setting have the information and data they need to do their job
- Establish the foundation for continued rebalancing of the system in Phase Two for youth to be placed directly at home or in a setting near home, when appropriate

Phase 1 Transformation Actions

- By June 30, 2019:

- All youth go immediately into assessment and from assessment into the best setting for their individual treatment plans.
