EEO Policy

- As an equal opportunity employer, the Kirkjune, Inc. complies with all applicable laws, rules and regulations preventing discrimination against job applicants based on: race, ethnicity, religious beliefs, gender, gender identity, age, veteran status, marital status, physical challenges, or any other relevant factor.
- In addition to recruitment and hiring practices, this policy requires affirmative action in the following areas: promotions, transfers, pay rates and termination.
- Our executives, upper and middle management, and supervisors are responsible for ensuring that this policy is fully implemented and that everyone, including the rank and file, complies.
- Allegations that anyone subject to this policy has engaged in prohibited conduct will be thoroughly investigated.
- If the accused is an Kirkjune, Inc. employee, he or she may be suspended pending the outcome of the investigation.
- If the investigation determines that an Kirkjune, Inc. employee has engaged in discriminatory practices or behavior, said employee will be disciplined accordingly.
- A supervisor, department head, or anyone else in a senior capacity that is aware of an Kirkjune, Inc. employee engaging in prohibited conduct and fails to take immediate and appropriate corrective action will also be disciplined accordingly.
- Any victim of discrimination should not hesitate to come forward.
- Any individual who feels that coming forward would be or has been futile, unsatisfactory or counterproductive should contact the Human Resources Department.
- Any type of retaliatory behavior, or threats of retaliation made against a victim of discrimination who has reported it, or against someone who was aware of the discrimination and reported, will result in immediate disciplinary action.

Due to the demographic of some counties there may be more than one office listed in a particular county; adequate coverage with a maximum driving distance not greater than 30 miles one way of a DHS office must be made available for collection. The number of offices listed above for DHS will not increase, however, if DHS relocates an office, the Contractor will be required to service that office with sufficient notification.
